At Newto, we taught mostly health and math classes. Here we are teaching the health care students some first aid... Sal got really wrapped up in this lesson!

One day was set aside for the students to compete in different sporting events. There were competitions in soccer, basketball, netball, cross-country, and swimming. We were on a faculty soccer team that lost in the first round.

One day some of the students took us on a hike up Mt. St. Catherine, the highest mountain in Grenada. That is one hike I will never, ever forget!

This name was coined by Devon, one of the fishery students whom we became close buddies with.
