

Nancy Ciavarrri, '90
Oaxaca, Mexico

these are some of the boys in the English program at San Duvall who were also our Spanish teachers. →

I think the greatest gift we could have recieved in Mexico is what the Mexicans call "AMISTAD" - friendship.
It was the spirit of friendship that brought all of us - young, old, Mexican, American - together and taught us so much about caring for one another.

Nancy Ciavarrri
Oaxaca, Mexico

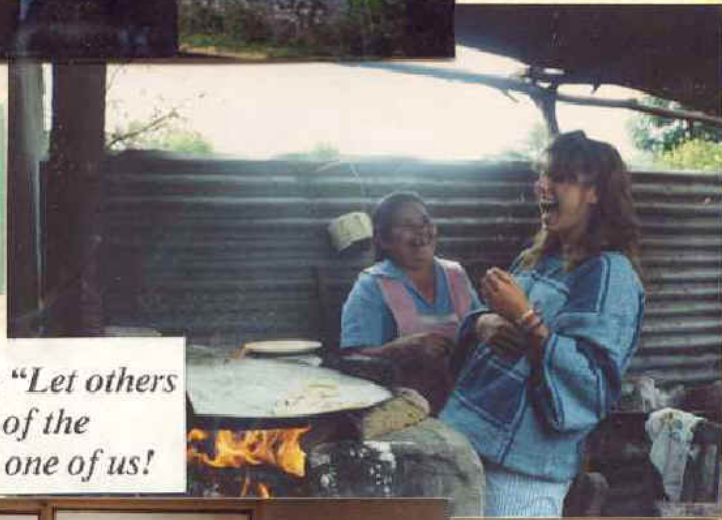

The kids
from the neighborhood
came over almost every day. They made sure we played
every day!
←

The beautiful view from the top of "our mountain" ←

An attempt at learning how to make tortillas from Doña Sabina, who is an expert →

Nobody can say anymore: "Let others be concerned with the rest of the world!" The world is each one of us!

The people in the nursing home became grandparents to us. Sal, Augustina, Margarita, and Alinda were four very special women. ←